

NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde (NHS GGC) is the largest NHS organisation in Scotland and has extensive experience and success in pharmacist Foundation Training. We are offering 11 full time hospital sector Foundation Training Year opportunities, based across Glasgow Royal Infirmary, Queen Elizabeth University Hospital and the Royal Alexandra Hospital. We are also excited to be able to offer an additional 18 places in multi sector (Split or Modular) programmes which allow trainee pharmacists to work collaboratively across sectors. These are offered as:

- Acute/Primary care
- Mental Health/Primary Care
- Mental Health/Community Pharmacy
- Primary Care/Community Pharmacy

We believe that a great Foundation Training year provides a building block for your career, and we support our trainees to gain as much as possible from all experiences offered. You will have access not only to all training associated with the NES Foundation Training Year programme, but also local NHS GGC tutorial sessions. You will also be invited to NHS GGC pharmacy events, such as local peer review and professional development/training sessions. Our programmes have a track record of producing well rounded pharmacists, the majority of whom successfully secure permanent band 6 posts, enabling completion of Post-Registration Foundation training post-qualification.

Please see our Training Provider Information statement for further information about our organisation and our training programmes here. Please note there are three NHS GGC Programmes listed separately.
